About the School

Notting Hill & Ealing High School is one of London's leading independent girls' day schools. Founded in 1873 it is the oldest of the 26 schools which make up the Girls' Day School Trust having begun life in Notting Hill and moved to Ealing in 1930. The school is a friendly and welcoming community of just over 900 girls, together with approximately 220 teaching and support staff. We occupy a site in suburban, leafy, west Ealing with excellent transport links. (We are an easy walk or bus ride from Ealing Broadway or West Ealing stations: District and Central underground lines, mainline trains and Crossrail from 2018.) The school is oversubscribed and a very popular choice at all ages with girls joining us from most parts of West London as well as areas further afield.

NHEHS is an academically selective school. Our girls are bright, enthusiastic and eager to learn and teaching here is a great experience. In our latest ISI inspection we achieved the highest possible grades across the board and the inspectors noted that 'the quality of the pupils' achievements and learning is exceptional.' Public examination results are consistently outstanding and girls go on to study a wide range of subjects at prestigious universities. (Latest results and the university destinations of Leavers can be found on our web site). Our facilities and teaching and learning resources are excellent and the GDST has an ongoing strategy of development and investment in all its schools. .

We are an all through school (ages 4-18). Around 300 girls attend the Junior School with 600 in the Senior School of whom 150 are in the Sixth Form.) The Junior and Senior Schools occupy their own parts of the site and in day-to-day terms operate independently. There are strong links between staff in both Junior and Senior departments with some notable examples of integrated teaching particularly in music and sport.

You will find Notting Hill & Ealing girls to be well grounded, confident and independent. They are proud of their school and value kindness and laughter, fun and friendship. The school is highly regarded for the way it achieves its outstanding results within a particularly warm and supportive environment. We put pastoral care and achieving the best for every girl at the heart of everything we do here and there is a deep-seated ethos of respect, tolerance and understanding.

"We are delighted that you are considering NHEHS and hope that you will want to apply for this post once you have found out a little more about us. Our website, www.nhehs.gdst.net will tell you more about the school and give you a taste of the atmosphere here."
Matthew Shoults, Headmaster

Teacher of History/Government & Politics (Maternity Cover)

The Post

The post is available from September 2017.

The vacancy provides the opportunity for a well-qualified, inspirational teacher of History and/or Government and Politics to teach up to A-level, and to contribute to a flourishing department in both its curricular and extra-curricular activities.

Person Specification

We are looking for a well-qualified graduate of History and/or Politics or a related discipline with excellent subject knowledge and a passion for the subject. She/he will have excellent organisational and time management skills and the ability to produce creative solutions to challenges. She/he will be a good communicator who can enthuse and inspire pupils and will have exciting ideas about the teaching of History/Politics and ways in which girls can be inspired both within and outside the curriculum. The ideal candidate will be fully committed to the vibrant extra-curricular life of the school.

The History and Politics Department

The department has a high profile within the School and it has consistently remained popular in relation to choices at GCSE and A Level. History is studied by all from Years 7 to 9; there is a strong showing at GCSE with three classes in each Year group. At A Level there are currently three History classes in both Years 12 and 13. Many have chosen to study the subject at university: this year there were three successful Oxbridge applications for History. There has been a significant increase in the number of girls opting for Government & Politics at A Level: there are currently two classes in Year 12 and one in Year 13, whilst next year's cohort will be the largest ever.

The department is made up of the Head of History & Politics and three full-time and two part-time teachers, some of whom teach other subjects in Years 7 to 9. There are three main class-teaching rooms, one used for 6th form teaching and the others for lower school.

The department is well equipped with resources both in the department and in the school library. The department has developed a comprehensive website filled with resources for teachers and pupils. This is backed up by the generous IT provision and support which the school enjoys. There are ICT rooms and individual laptops and ipads for pupils.

Extra-curricular provision

The History Society is one of the most active societies in the school and is supported by the sixth form. It has arranged in-house lectures from university speakers and has provided a range of extension classes for Oxbridge candidates. There are outings to places of educational interest including museums, conferences and historical sites both here and abroad (recent trips include those to Washington DC, Berlin and Ypres). The Politics Society has raised the profile of the subject by organising mock elections for the recent dramatic political events, particularly since 2015.

The History and Politics Curriculum

Years 7 to 9 (Key Stage 3)

In Years 7-9, all pupils study History, loosely following the National Curriculum to provide a broad chronological and thematic overview. Topics covered include medieval realms, the Tudor and Stuart periods, slavery and freedom in the USA, the industrial revolution, the First and Second World Wars.

Years 10 and 11 (Key Stage 4)

In History, pupils follow the Cambridge IGCSE syllabus, which focuses on twentieth century international history. Topics covered include the USA during the Depression, international relations between the wars, the Cold War and conflict in the Middle East. IGCSE students will have the opportunity to visit Berlin in October 2017 to gain a richer understanding of the course.

A Level (History)

Pupils follow the OCR specification for the new linear A Level. Topics covered include Britain 1930-1997; the French Revolution and Napoleon; Russia and its rulers 1855 to 1964. There is also a coursework unit on British history.

A Level (Government and Politics)

The current Year 12 students will continue with the unreformed Edexcel course for AS and A2. They are studying British politics for AS and American politics for A2.

The new cohort of students starting in September will follow the reformed Edexcel course for A Level. This will still include units on British and American politics, with an additional study of political ideas.
